Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-26 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 12/30/2005.

Applicant's election with traverse of claims 27-32 in the reply filed on 12/30/2005 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the process requires the use of the claimed apparatus. This is not found persuasive because as stated in the original restriction requirement, the apparatus can be employed in other, materially different processes, such as batch, or non-continuous fluidized bed processes.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 30, 31, 33 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The above claims are indefinite because they employ "comprising" language when describing a Markush Group, thereby allowing for unnamed members to be present in the group, and thereby rendering the scope of the claims indefinite. See MPEP 2173.05(h).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 27-32 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-36 of copending Application No.

10/666048. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the required smaller particle sizes of the ‘048 application fall within the range of the instant claims and the “comprising” language of the instant claims allows for the processing of the carbon blacks processed in the ‘048 application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 27 and 29-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Market et al'407. Market et al'407 teaches a method of treating carbonaceous particulate material comprising coke or graphite (which meets the requirements of instant claims 30-34, since the “comprising” language allows for the inclusion of other, unspecified materials, even in major amounts), where the carbonaceous material is introduced into an electrothermal fluidized bed furnace (10) which includes a first cylindrical portion (25), a conical portion (21) below the first cylindrical portion (25) including a plurality of nozzles (53) therein for introducing a fluidizing gas, and an upper, second cylindrical portion (20) with a larger diameter than the first cylindrical portion, at least one electrode (911) extending through the first and second cylindrical portions, a treated material discharge pipe (52) at the end of the conical portion (21) a raw material feed pipe (22) introducing feed material into the first cylindrical portion and a gas discharge pipe (23) at the top of the furnace, where the furnace is operated continuously, thereby showing all aspects of the above claims.
